	Grantmakers Concerned with Immigrants & Refugees - California Immigrant Resilience Fund (Rolling Deadline) [California]	RR-21100	Fund is responding to the two million undocumented Californians who are facing extreme economic hardship as a result of COVID-19.	Eligibility: Individuals & Households, Nonprofit Organizations	Eligible immigrants can apply through local partners. Local partner list: [currently being updated] https://www.immigrantfundca.org/local-partners https://www.immigrantfundca.org/contact Given the devastating economic impact of COVID-19 on undocumented communities, many of our local partners have long waiting lists and may not be accepting new applications for assistance at this time. The allocation formula is based on the size of the undocumented immigrant population in each region. They also take into consideration factors such as the existence of other relief funds and community resources, contributions that are designated by our donors for specific regions, and the opportunity to leverage funding and partner with other efforts.	immigrantfundca@gcir.org
